A long the banks of the Ganges River, near Varanasi, a city known as the spiritual capital of India, 16 big projects are planned for the rivers that plunge from the roof of the world. Hundreds of big projects are planned for the rivers that plunge from the roof of the world. Hundreds of big projects are planned for the rivers that plunge from the roof of the world. Hundreds of big projects are planned for the rivers that plunge from the roof of the world. Hundreds of big projects are planned for the rivers that plunge from the roof of the world.